HEALTH AND SAFETY

With constant changes to Health and Safety legislation many businesses question if existing policies and procedures comply with Health and Safety Law

DID YOU KNOW?

All business with five or more employees must have a written Health and Safety Policy and must carry-out and document risk assessments.

Your most valuable assets are your employees; and with over 30,000 workplace fires every year; are you doing enough to protect them from the risk of fire?

The Regulatory Reform (Fire Safety) Order 2005 as of October 2006 now requires all non domestic properties, including voluntary organisations to carry-out a fire risk assessment, which will be subject to monitoring by the local Authority Fire Service

Failure to have satisfactory Health and Safety arrangements in place can lead to the issue of Improvement and/or Prohibition Notices by local enforcement offices (HSE), which can lead to temporary closure of your business until required improvements have been implemented.

HOW WE CAN HELP YOU

Assured Quality and Safety Ltd can help your local service provider for in-depth advice and practical support covering all aspects of Health and Safety Management.

Our business supports blue-chip nationals including local independent companies with a range of flexible services tailored to match your expectations, budgets and future goals.

We are able to provide to you clear direction through purpose designed management plans, identifying solutions, thus helping you deliver successful management of your business to stakeholders.
